New Dollar store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.

New store doesn’t need conditional permit, it says

■ Dollar General, a South Carolina-based chain that’s making its way into Arkansas, said this week that it does not need a conditional permit to open a store in North Little Rock.

The store is set to open by Jan. 15, though he said he could be ready to open a little sooner.
North Little Rock, the new location for Laman Library's Argenta Branch.

The construction of a 2½- to three-month interview period by LeafGuard of America, Inc. for a FREE estimate and in-home demonstration Call 501-664-5400 or 1-800-LEAFGUARD today COUPON

pack

Expires 8-31-13

HARDPACKS 7:00 P.M.

• With many

• Keep gutters

• Patented one-

• GUARANTEED!

• Never Clogs...

pine needles,

rains,

leaves,

snows and sleet.

Get Extra Protection with LeafGuard™ of America, Inc.